Optional Add-ons

Add-on	Description	Price
De-burring edges	Lathe-cut blank records often come with straight edges that can feel a little rough to the touch. To give them a smoother, more refined finish, similar to pressed record, we carefully round the edges using a de-burring tool. Note: Colour vinyl's include Free de-burring.	£0.20 (For Both Sides)
Scribing the cat number on the run-out	Add your catalogue number to the run-out groove for a professional touch. Similar to pressed records, we scribe your release’s Cat Number or Matrix Code on the run-out, representing the release number from the record label. We might scribe the cutting engineer’s name “Dapz” into the runout groove as a mark of authenticity and care.	£0.20 (For Both Sides)
A5 promo sheets	If you're planning a white label release, including a promo sheet inside the sleeve can really elevate the presentation. It adds a thoughtful touch for the buyer, whether it’s a logo, track details, a short blurb about the music, or even shout-outs. It’s a simple addition that can make your release feel more personal and complete.	£0.15 Per print as black & white £0.20 Per print as full colour

Policy's & T&C's Subject	Description
Test Cuts Policy	For new customers, we strongly recommend ordering a test cut of your track(s) before committing to a full batch run. Test cuts are available at a discounted rate, 20% off the listed website price for a single cut, including any selected optional add-ons. We will send you a separate invoice if you require a test cut. Choosing a test cut allows you to review the audio quality, levels, and overall compatibility of your track with the lathe-cut format before larger quantities are produced. Please note that if you choose NOT to order a test cut and proceed directly with a batch run, any dissatisfaction with the final result does not qualify for refunds, replacements, or returns. This policy ensures clarity and fairness, as test cuts provide the opportunity to identify and resolve any issues prior to full production.
Sound Quality and Playback	We take great care to achieve the best possible sound quality test cut before moving on to the final batch run. However, since this is a vinyl format, playback can vary depending on your setup. Differences in turntables, age/usage of stylus types, and tracking weight may affect how certain frequencies are heard. Please ensure your stylus weight and tracking are correctly set for optimal playback. Lathe-cut grooves are shallower and less uniform than pressed records, so proper setup makes a noticeable difference.
Minimum Order amount	A minimum order of 10 copies applies. Batch-run pricing is shown on page 1 and varies depending on quantity and format.
Maximum Order amount	To keep production running smoothly and maintain a healthy workflow, we cap each order at a maximum of 100 units. This limit applies to the combined total of all projects within a single order. If you place an order for 50 units and return a week or more later wanting another 50 (or more), that's absolutely fine, it simply depends on our current turnaround times and any deadlines we're already working to. We'll always be upfront about availability and will do our best to accommodate you. We're happy to discuss, adjust, and find a fair compromise wherever possible, as long as it keeps the schedule realistic for everyone involved.
Additional Copies & Re-Cuts	If you find yourself needing more copies due to strong demand, we'll provide you with a turnaround estimate. Since we're always working on new projects, we can't cut additional copies immediately, but we'll slot your request into the queue and give you a realistic timeframe for completion.
Centre Labels & Stickers	Please note that centre labels and sleeve stickers may have slight variances in colour compared to the original artwork, though this doesn't occur in all cases. A tolerance for minor imperfections should be expected.

Plausible Returns	If any copy is found to be unsatisfactory, or if a buyer raises a concern regarding a specific issue with their record, please note that we require the item to be returned to us for inspection. Should the reported issue be verified, we will be happy to provide a replacement. Eligible issues for replacement include, but are not limited to: • Skips or jumps caused by kissing grooves • Excessive surface noise that overpower the audio on playback Please be aware that each record is cut in real time. Unlike pressed records, where a single master stamper ensures identical copies, lathe-cut records are produced individually. Over extended production runs, the cutting lathe may behave differently, and on rare occasions a blank disc may contain defects prior to audio being cut. We also want to highlight that overall loudness may be lower than a pressed record due to the technical limitations of the VR lathe system. We always aim for the highest cutting volume possible within safe and accurate cutting parameters, but variations in loudness are a normal characteristic of the format. For this reason, complaints relating solely to loudness are not eligible for replacement or refunds. Every record is cut with the utmost care and monitored throughout the process. However, due to the nature of real-time cutting, there may be rare instances where an issue is not immediately detectable and may slip through quality control.
